When the volume exceeds 120 decibels, direct damage can even occur. The chance of hearing damage depends on the listening frequency and duration. An HDMI cable is used to transport audio and video signals between devices. Dust in hard to reach places is best removed with compressed air. This makes it possible to create a 5.1 effect with only 1 speaker.

Then I use a straight razor blade to pry in the gap between the button and the wiring holes, alternating below each hole. As you do that, the button rocks out a little bit at a time. Generally, you need to read the instructions for the camera, headset, speakers or whatever the Bluetooth device is. Roughly speaking though. Settings Bluetooth Search, on the Android, iPhone, Windows phone whatever. With camera, speaker, headphones or whatever the Bluetooth device is, you have to press a button on that device to send out the signal. On my Bowers and Wilkins T6 Speakers, there is a button on the top with the Bluetooth symbol on it. This is the part people usually don't do and ask for advice, thinking it will do this automatically. When the Android device recognises it, click Pair, and if it asks for a code, the Default is 0000, four zeros, no quotes. Posted by Andrew. on Nov 19, 2016 Manual I unplugged and dried everything just in case with blow dryer. How long should I wait to try to turn back on. Or is no hope I had a friend who was a repair guy who often had calls from an office where somebody would tell him they had spilled tea or coffee or a soft drink on something that ceased to work. If something is just wet, I usually take off what covers I can to expose the innards and then dry what I can and then give it a couple of weeks. If the unit turns out to be ruined perhaps your domestic insurance covers that sort of accident. Is a 261278102 It appears that unit is for a household rated voltage of 120 Volts AC. The AMPS is how much current it can supply. There is usually a fuse INSIDE those that opens then they get too hot. It is not easy to repair. The SA5 amplifier also has three aux ports so you can connect nonstreaming sources, such as a CD player. If you can get it on your device, you can hear it through the SoundTouch SA5 amplifier. Music services may vary. If you start with the SA5 amplifier hooked up to outdoor speakers, you can add more at any time It could be ceiling speakers in the basement, your home stereo in your living room, then a SoundTouch 10 speaker for the kitchen.SoundTouch lets you take total control of your listening experience, right from your smartphone or tablet.

Easily personalise presets for onetouch access to the music you love, and control one or many SoundTouch speakers around your home. Without lifting a finger. Just open the Alexa app. Search for "Bose" under the Skills menu. Then follow the simple onetime setup. So, what can you do Plenty. Start your funk playlist in the kitchen. Turn the volume up or down. Change tracks. Find out what's playing. And even control where it's playing—from the speaker in your kitchen to the speaker in your bedroom. It can also run two pairs of speakers in parallel, so you can wire four speakers to the amp. I am so happy it work perfect especially Bluetooth. Well it was easy to set up and get running if youve used sound touch stuff before and the sound quality is good but that is as much about the speakers as anything.Now if you have used soundtouch stuff you will know it is not always as seamless as Bose would have you believe, sometimes the app cant find your speakers especially if you have 2.4 and 5 GHz wifi and unlike all the other soundtouch products if the app cant find it you have no other way to control the amplifier. Closing and restarting the app does usually find everything again but you cant do that while trying to answer the phone. I bought this knowing about the odd soundtouch connection problems and im sure as new firmware and app updates happen then Bose will get to the bottom of this but is am a convicted Bose addict and have 9 different Bose items in the house now i would probably have bought this regardless. SoundTouch products use the SoundTouch app, while the Bose Home Speaker family uses the Bose Music app. However, Apple device owners can use Apple AirPlay 2 to group the SoundTouch SA5 amplifier with Bose Home Speaker family products for multiroom synchronised playback. Apple AirPlay 2 requires a WiFi connection. When running two pairs of speakers, we recommend using speakers rated no lower than 8 ohms.

However, you can still create groups in the SoundTouch app as normal, even if the music was started through the Bose Skill. Play content in a specific room. Play the same music everywhere. Find out whats playing. Turn a system on or off.The Skill itself is free and it is enabled through the Skills section of the Amazon Alexa app. An Alexa enabled device like an Amazon Echo or Echo Dot is also required to use the Skill. Apple bought Beats and then Bose goes and breaks Apple Airplay function as well as the ability to control the SoundTouch system from your iPhone or iPad. The ability to use my iPhone to control pool music was the entire reason for buying this product. Problem is, they have a beef with Apple and previous customers are now paying for it. Incredible, but true. I now wait for a version of SoundTouch that has an external input for my next home automation purchase please add this feature!. Until then we will continue get daily use of the current Soundtouch system. Old comments I picked this over the Sonos as I have always like Bose as it has the Soundtouch Controller which the Sonos does not offer. A little over a year of ownership and only one of the channels will output sound. Very disappointed and too late to return and out of warranty. He was able to wire the system to his favorite speakers. We control the system using our iPhone apps. We couldn't get the remote to work but that might be because of our limited knowledge. The apps are easy to use so were good.

We enjoy listening to our iTunes playlists and Pandora. Will need to explore the other options. We were tired of using under sized bluetooth speakers and unreliable piecemill wireless speakers. We wanted a system that would play loud if we wanted but also provide clear music at a decibel level suitable for general daytime swimming and relaxing by the pool. We paired this system with 2 Definitive Technology AW 6500 Outdoor Speakers. Network connection was easy the external remote synced quickly range is not 70 feet though maybe 25 but it was good enough for our application. The Bose App connected to pandora account and streamed music all day great quality audio. When I used the Apple Airplay mode to stream music from ipad using Amazon prime music the signal seemed a little weaker. This could have been a network issue but there was absolutely no problem with pandora. I have not tried to play music from a network library yet but hope to try that feature soon. Overall very satisfied with the product and easy setup. App works great, just wish it had support for Amazon music. Hope its an update coming soon. Controller works well too. I do wish two controllers could hook up to the same amp. The SoundTouch SA5 amplifier features WiFi and Ethernet interfaces for highspeed Internet connectivity. Using the free SoundTouch app for Android, iOS, and Kindle Fire devices, you can wirelessly stream locally stored content and Internet radio services such as Pandora, Deezer, iHeartRadio, Spotify, iTunes, and Internet radio. Integrated Bluetooth connectivity allows you to pair and wirelessly stream music from similarly equipped devices. 3.5mm and dual stereo inputs are also onboard for interfacing wired music sources.
